

tweet about
published
research in your
statistical area

tweetorial

“short series of grouped multimedia tweets containing educational content centered around a particular topic... structured in an interactive fashion with polls to prompt active learning, stepwise revelation of diagnostic clues, and opportunities for questions and feedback.”